

RESIDENTIAL & DORMITORY FACILITIES NYC Metro Area & Long Island, NY

HE2PD, Inc. is proficient in the construction of residential and dormitory facilities, and understands the strict constraints that characterize construction in the housing market. For these projects, our staff strives to maintain stringent quality control while adhering to established budgetary and schedule parameters. The executive management at HE2PD, Inc. has been responsible for the creation of several thousand student residence beds and has a unique comprehension of the challenges presented throughout the building process. This enables our firm to offer unparalleled Total Project Leadership and gives the Owner single point accountability for all tasks. We understand the need to meet deadlines and are adept at the management of all contractors in order to deliver a project that is to the utmost satisfaction of both the client and tenants.
